DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-11, drawn to a condiment dispenser, classified in class 222, subclass 519.
 - II. Claims 12-20, drawn to a carousel, classified in class 211, subclass 144.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions II and I are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as a rotating lamp display carousel. See MPEP § 806.05(d).
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Gregor N. Neff on July 14, 2005 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group II, claims 12-20. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 1-12 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3754

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 12-16, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 6,591,993 to Humphrey.

Humphrey shows a rotating carousel as seen in Figs. 1, 3, 6, 7 and 8, having a base structure 14 including a base member 35 and a central projection 31 extending upwardly from the base, the projection being releasable attached to the base by manually releasable structures 37, see Fig. 8, holding structure 20, the projection also including a plurality of vertical struts 31, 32 and 33, see Fig. 7, a plurality of arms 5 interconnecting with rim 13 at a central hub, an upper support module 34 and a bearing structure 17. With respect to the limitation of a condiment dispenser holding structure, the device of Humphrey is capable of holding condiment dispensers in accordance with the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6,591,993 to Humphrey in view of US 5,931,356 to Lillelund et al. and US 6,283,339 to Morrow.

Humphrey shows all claimed features as discussed above except for the carousel supporting a pop-up and a rotary pre-measured condiment dispenser. Lillelund shows a pop-up dispenser as seen in Figs. 3 and 4, Morrow shows a twist bottom measured dispenser as seen in Figs. 1-4. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the carousel of Humphrey to support condiment dispensers including a pop-up or a twist bottom measured dispenser since it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Endean shows a Footwear storage rack. Morgan rotatable storage device. Robbins shows a condiment dispenser with variable quantity control.
